

Are you frustrated in your job search? Are you a recent graduate who can't seem to find a job? Have you been laid-off and can't get back to work? Have you sent out hundreds of emails and gotten no response? Then this book is for you. The problem could be that you're not working hard enough at getting the job you want. More likely your hard work and efforts are not being rewarded because you're not using the most efficient and effective process. There is a right way and a wrong way to go about searching for a job. The right way makes the job search easy or at least easier. Hard work but easy! The wrong way is just frustrating. In this book you'll develop a better understanding about what it takes to land a new job. Darnall Daley brings 50 plus years experience in all aspects of the search for a new job. He has been a sales manager, an engineering manager, and a manufacturing manager in companies both large and small. Dale Daley has been a Human Resources Professional for 30 years, working in both the restaurant and the theme park industries. Over these years he has selected and on-boarded tens of thousands of employees for the companies he has worked for. Let the insight of this father/son team give you an edge over the competition when competing for your next position.
